WARRANTY DEFINITIONS

Product Warranty

The product is produced according to manufacturers' specifications for use in commercial roofing applications. When installed appropriately, it will perform as designed.

Material Warranty

This Material Warranty is an assurance to the building owner ("Owner") that, subject to the conditions and limitations of this limited warranty, FAR® materials will withstand ordinary wear and tear by the elements and will be free of manufacturing defects during the guarantee period, which starts at the date of completion of the roof. This limited warranty applies to FAR® materials installed in accordance with current FAR® materials specifications. This Warranty is not to be used or construed for any other purpose unless specifically agreed upon in writing by Fluid Applied Roofing, LLC ("FAR").

Full System Warranty

This Full System Warranty is an assurance to the building owner ("Owner") that, subject to the conditions and limitations of this warranty, FAR® materials will withstand ordinary wear and tear by the elements and will be free of manufacturing defects that affect their ability to maintain the roof in watertight condition during the guarantee period, which starts at the date of completion of the final roof inspection and approval. This warranty applies to FAR® materials installed in accordance with current FAR® materials specifications. Under this Warranty, FAR® agrees to furnish, at no charge during the warranty period, a quantity of material and labor sufficient to repair any leaks in the FAR System subject to the Full System Warranty terms and conditions. This System Warranty is not to be used or construed for any other purpose unless specifically agreed upon in writing by Fluid Applied Roofing, LLC ("FAR").
